

The Smart Mobile Roaming Alternative!

WHAT IS ROAMABOUT?

The RoamAbout mission is to provide the traveling professional high-quality international communication alternatives that save money. Designed on our years of personal experience, RoamAbout ensures all the calls to YOUR number roam with you...anywhere in the world (you take your number with you) and saves you 75% on your mobile roaming calls! All the calls to the numbers on your business card to reach you, everywhere in the world. We provide important business features such as free voice mail, conference calling, easy to use SMS and the option to purchase a SIM or phone before your trip along with other useful communication services.

Register your free account on our web site (www.roamabout.com). Once your account is established you can access it from any computer to make changes or from the local Automated Attendant IVR in country. You can acquire your own local SIM card or get one from us before your depart. We can also offer a calling card alternative or we can provision a personal International DID number for long-term solutions.

How it works: You simply forward your phone to our global network and we forward all your calls to the low cost pre-paid number you get for the country you are going to. You can even add your home and/or office lines as an option. You make outbound calls like a local and use RoamAbout for the International calls. We provide you with a free Voice Mailbox so you never miss a call and we offer a Scheduled Conference Bridge for up to 100 connections. SMS is easy via the web portal; everything you need to go RoamAbout.

Our plans are to expand service to over 100 countries. However, with our free soft phone you can use a laptop, PC or PDA to call from any Internet connection right now; WiFi roaming is today. We are also provisioning DID numbers and using are switches for virtual PBX applications in tertiary markets.

WHO IS THIS GOOD FOR?

Our largest group is the International corporate business traveler. But you would be surprised at the thousands of cross-border workers, especially in the EU, who now don't have to carry two phones (and two numbers). Generally, if you are spending about $50 (£25) or so a month to roam across borders, RoamAbout will be worth it.

WHO IS ROAMABOUT?

RoamAbout was formed by a collection of former Telco executives who have worked together over the past 10 to 14 years building and leading large global communication ventures. Our people formerly were senior leaders at Unisys, TeliaSonera, Infonet, KPN and T-Mobile. Our team has put together a 20-million user voice-over-data business; a large wireless ASP (8-million users), launched MMS and over 80 wireless applications with 9 out of 10 of the worlds largest wireless carriers. Our three senior executives have each held billion-dollar P&L. Our funding is out of our own pockets, not other people's money. Every member of the RoamAbout team has "skin in the game" and therefore is highly motivated toward success and providing you with the best possible service. With over 200 man-years of International telecom experience we are highly confident in providing you with a way to "beat the system," bypassing the inordinate International Roaming rates your operator has charged for years.
